Friday Morning, July 17, 1863. BOY HOBRISLE MURDER-INFAMOUS OUT-RAGE -We learn that a horrible outrage was perpetrated on the summit of great Cumberland, by a soldier of the Ringgold Cavalry, who had been sent in pursuit of two deserters. He had overtaken the deserters, and was induced by them to visit a tavern, kept by a man named Beals, where he drank quite freely. The deserters again escaped, and the sollier started on horseback. A little way rom Beal's tavern, near Frostburg, Md., be drunken soldier saw an old man loadng lumber, which he intended hauling to imberland. The old man was assisted y an idiot son, aged about seventeen years. he soldier insisted that the old manould trade horses, but he declined to do

The soldier then told him he would ot him, and started back towards the erg. It is supposed that he loaded his revolver while away, as he returned and deliberately shot the old man, the ball penstrating his chest. He also fell upon the liot boy and beat him in a horrible maner, rendering his recovery doubtful. The ld man's daughter stooped over her fathweeping as he lay dead, but the soldier, pparently insane, ordered her not to cry he would kill her, and he actually comelled her leave the body and approach im with a smile on her face ! She soon iter managed to escape.

The soldier then went back to the tayand wanted Real to get on his horse d ride off with bim. Beal refused, and e soldier attempted to seize him, when fled and escaped, followed by his wife. helpless eld man, who was left in the ern, was almost beaten to death with a tcher which the soldier had seized. Afdestroying everything in the house, the furiated madman left; but the report of outrages had spread around, and was rsued and captured just as he was entering the bushes. He was conveyed to e jail in Cumberland, where he awaits examination.

THE TOWNSHIP SYSTEM -For the t two days the Senate has been eccupied the discussion of the subject of dividing counties of the State into townships .has been found to be a more difficult ng than most people supposed. Many the members, owing to the troubled state the country, favor the adoption, for the sent, of the sungesterial districts of the te as townships. They contend that it save a great deal of expense and that l necessary purposes the old districts do well enough until a more auspiperiod. The opponents of this plan nd that it is unconstitutional. The titution provides that the counties be divided into not more than ten sor than three townships, and that no aship shall have a population less than hundred. Many of the magisterial icts have not the requisite population. also said that the present magisterial ricts were never laid out by any regular rey and that in some of the counties the s are so irregular that many persons "run out" and do not know what dist they live in.

Norica.-Parties write to us every almost, ordering our paper and laying will call the first time I am in the city d pay you, or I will send the money the opportunity."

We would that it was in our power to ommodate every body who wants to thing would give us greater pleasure .it the case, briefly stated, is this : Our per manufacturer-our employees, our usand and one creditors, do not wait on convenience of people who write thus us, and how can we? We are obliged pay as we go and the only way we can so is to make an inflexible rule that her people must pay us as they go.

Therefore we can not send any papers til they are paid for.

SHOT IN CINCINNATI -On Sunday ening Mr. Boll, mate of the steamer Rose mbleton, was skot by the Provost pard, in Cincinnati, that city being unr martial law. Mr. B. was leaving his oat to go up town fer supper, when he as ordered to "halt" by the guard. He ates that he did not see the guard or hear e order, and some one having hailed him om the Eclipse, he started to-ward that at, when one of the guard fired at him, a ball taking effect in the clow of the arm, passing out near the wrist, He s taken to the office of Dr. Malone, who essed his wound, which is of a serious inre.

HARVEST .-- Our farmers are now sily engaged in their wheat fields. Most the wheat is already cut, and from what hear the crop will be nearly an average e, and the quality unusually good,ds large and well filled. Corn is growrapidly, and the prespects for a good op are much better than they were. ts will be short, but it is said the late ins will cause them to head wed. The y crop will be much lighter than usual, the late rains will increase the crop asiderably. It is said the fruit crop, ecially apples, will not be very abun-

ed. This took place yesterday, 7 P M .- The 26th Michigan Inud 352d New York regiments have arrived from Washington. The details of the riot in 1st and 2d avenues say that Jackson's foundry at 28th street and Seward's foundry at 17th street was threatened by the mob this forenoon. A detachment of fifty of the 65th N. Y. nilitia, under Col. Bechrent, and two how itsers of the 8th militia, were sent to the scene. The mob stole out of hannts around with muskets and carbines, but merely yelfed furiously. At first the troops took o notice of this, and leaving a detach ment with one howitzer at Seward's, marched to 1st avenue. Here a party of roughs fired on them, and Adam Schwend, one of the soldiers, was slightly wounded. The

It is stated that a riot is now going on in first avenue, where company E, of the 6th N. Y., Buffalo regiment, was going to come of them seriously.

The most daying act of the rioters, was Boston, July 15th.—All is quiet here this morning. Four of five were killed last night and probably a dozen wounded, some of them seriously.

The most daring set of the rioters was the attacking of the armory in Cooper street, where a force of military had been stationed to protect it. When the mob had beaten down the doors they were fired upon by a six pounder loaded with canister. This effectually scattered the mob at that point. One rioter was completely riddled with shot, and fell dead at the door of the Lock, provision dealer, was seriously wounded in the thigh.— Three young women and three or four small boys were wounded, but not seriousy. They were not participators in the riot. Two soldiers in the armory were injured by bricks thrown through the windows.

The rioters then attacked the gun shops in Dock square, stealing and destroying from $4000 to $5000 worth of property. They were speedily dispersed by a volley from the revolvers of the police. The lat Dragoons appeared at 9 o'clock, patrolling the atreets, which, together with an in-fantry force, overswed all further attempts.
